

Le Marche Wineries Seeking Distribution in the U.S.

Le Marche region specializes in varietals such as Verdicchio, Vernaccia, Conero Rosso and other grapes. The wineries are planning a structured promotion of their wines during the next 2 years, which is financially supported by OCM.

The following vintners are seeking representation in U.S. states:

Az. Agr. Lucchetti Mario

Started in 1800 by the Lucchetti Family, the terroir contributes much originality to their wine production. Lucchetti Mario presents to Florida two Verdicchio wines and three Lacrima di Morro d'Alba wines. Their wines are currently being distributed in California, New York, Minnesota, and Puerto Rico.

Az. Agr. Lanari Luca

Lanari Luca is a 30-year old company in Rosso Conero, started by Leardo Lanari, with their prime objective being to produce a big, high-quality red. Lanari brings wines Rosso Conero, D'Inclite, Fibbio, and Aretè. Wines are being distributed in California, Oregon, New York, and Puerto Rico.

Az. Agr. Strologo Silvano

In 1960, the first vine was planted by Sante Giulio Strologo. The microclimate and limestone terroir creates an ideal environment for Montepulciano grapes. Strologo Silvano presents three Rosso Conero wines, and a Rosé. Current distribution is from New York and California.

Az. Agr. Vignamato di Ceci Andrea

Amato Ceci and his wife Maria – both passionate grape growers, founded their company Vignamato in the late 1950's, where they have always given meticulous attention to their land and facilities. Vignamato brings five Verdicchio wines to Florida, and three Rossos. Distribution is currently to California and Ohio.

Belisario srl.

Founded in 1971, Belisario is the largest producer of Verdicchio di Matelica DOC. All vineyards are owned by Belisario and are within 10 minutes of the winery. Belisario introduces to the Florida market three Verdicchio di Matelica wines and a Colli Maceratesi Rosso Riserva. Distribution is currently to the states of New York/ New Jersey, California, Illinois, and Massachusetts.
